

Golden Book Awards May 22nd 2020

Dragonflies: Golden Book child for this week is Isaac W for his fantastic home learning, particularly his enthusiasm to take on Mr Mill's PE Challenges. He has also worked really hard revising his Phonics skills and practising his handwriting and has really enjoyed developing his Maths skills. Well done Isaac!	Ladybirds: Golden book this week goes to Sophia-Grace for learning to ride her bike without stabilizers and being brave enough to get back on when she fell off. Keep it up Sophia Grace, what a superstar!	Bumblebees: Golden book winner in Bumblebees this week is Dominic for all his great home learning. Well done for keeping going with your learning at home and trying out lots of new things.	Butterflies: Mrs Yates has chosen Sophia C this week for her fantastic home learning and for being a brilliant big sister! Sophia, I am sure you're going to be a super role model.
Otters: Mrs Turner's Golden Book winner this week goes to Evie for her work at home and particularly how she has been explaining her answers to the maths problems. She's been proving her answers really well!	Squirrels: Miss Joy has chosen Sapphirah this week for her continuous effort with her home learning. Sapphirah is also enjoying Mr Mill's P.E challenges keeping fit at home. Well done, keep it up!	Hedgehogs: Emily R is golden book winner this week. She has been working really hard with all her home learning and has even been doing some extra tasks! She has also shown a lot of perseverance too, especially with her spelling and handwriting.	Moles: Alfie H is this weeks' winner for working so hard at home but especially with his writing. Mummy says he has found it a challenge but he hasn't given up and has produced excellent diary entries this week. What a persevering pig!!
Woodpeckers: Golden Book this week goes to Winnie. She has worked so hard since the beginning of Lockdown, having fun and finding ways to do tasks even though she is unable to leave the house. We are so proud of you Winnie.	Kingfishers: The Kingfishers' Gold Book Award this week goes to Emelia. Emelia, we have not just been amazed by all the effort you put into your home learning, but you have used the time away from school to extend your learning with several of your own projects. Also, as you are new to the area, you decided to explore your locality and have become an expert on Black Notley!	Robins: Golden book child this week is Roman. He has been working very hard on Class Dojo using his imagination for example writing about a peacock who lives in a castle using a beautiful feather pen! His ideas have made Mrs Convoy smile lots!	Kestrels: Golden book this week goes to Megan. She has been working so hard through this tricky time and is even working independently as well. I'm very proud and it's lovely she's still smiling!

Mr Mills' Sporting Superstar May 22nd

Mr Mills Sporting superstar this week is:

Tyler in Moles for great effort in the PE challenges and never giving up!

Don't forget that even though we are in lockdown, it is still really important to get some form of physical activity every day. There are some lovely Youtube videos such as Kids Zumba and Just Dance and if you are able to get outside for a daily walk this is amazing for wellbeing. I make sure I get a little walk or run every day and I definitely feel better for it!
